TAMMY PERRY

Hello! My name is Tammy Perry. I have been with John Knox since September 2017, and I'm very excited to learn and explore with your child. I have worked with children for several years in various positions. My oldest son told me once that it was "my destiny" to work with children. He is absolutely correct. My husband is Lamar Perry, and we have two sons, Trenton and Zachary. My husband and I are from Nashville, TN and have lived in Greenville for several years. I would like to personally welcome you to the John Knox Family and look forward to learning and growing with your little ones.
